We know it feels like forever ago, but we want you to cast your minds back to the 4 books we have studied so far in Year 6: Beetle Boy, Skellig, Wolf Wilder & Floodland (we know it's not finished yet).

1. Which book did you prefer and why?
Consider... was your favourite particularly funny? Was it the most dramatic? Did it have the most exciting action? Or was it the most descriptive?
2. Who has been your favourite character and why?
For example... was it Virginia because she was always honest and brave? Was it Michael in Skellig because he loved to explore? Was it Darkus's uncle for his determination to find his brother?
3. Which of the books did you find the most challenging and why?
4. If you were to write a sequel (a second book) to any of those books, which would you write one for? (We know Beetle Boy already has sequels)
5. What would happen in the sequel you would write?
