Artist Rob Arnold has been taking part in beach cleans in his local community but instead of throwing the litter away again, he has been sifting through it and making some amazing works of art!

Watch this video about it and answer the questions

1. Where does Rob Arnold live?
2. How much litter was collected by Rob before lockdown?
3. Why do you think there is so much litter (particularly plastic) on beaches?
4. How many plastic pellets (like beads) did he collect from the beach?
5. Name 3 other things he collected.
6. Why did he decide to make art out of the plastic he found on the beaches?
7. What is he trying to make more people aware of?
8. Why do you think doing this helps to keep him positive?
9. What do you think of what he is doing?
10. Name 2 ways we can help reduce the amount of plastic that is found on beaches (the answer isn't in the video).
