Mr Cook and I are so proud of you! Your secondary schools have been getting in touch with us about what kind of learner you are and we've been telling them lots of fantastic things about who you are!

Your task today is to write a letter to your secondary school telling them all about your achievements this year!

If you're stuck, here's just some of your many achievements that I can think of!

You could start your letter like this (of course this is just an example so use your secondary school's name):

Dear City Academy,

I am writing to you because I am due to attend your school in September and I thought it would be useful to inform you of some of my achievements during Year 6.

Firstly,
