

Tuesday 30th June – English

1. Match the beginning of the following clauses with the correct ending clause to create a sentence. Write the sentences in your book.

Beginning Clause

The aliens went on an eventful mission,

Back on Earth, the scientists

The police and fire engines came racing

The people gasped in surprise

Back home the aliens all cheered

Ending Clause

but there was little they could do.

as the aliens vanished into the sky.

because they had saved the Earth.

had such a terrible fright.

zooming through space.

2. Below are some simple sentences, add a clause at the end of each one to extend the sentences.

- The aliens jumped into their spaceships.
- Their spaceships were travelling very fast.
- Suddenly, the aliens landed back on Earth.
- They sneaked inside people's houses.
- The aliens made huge underpants.

★ Can you add some adjectives and adverbs to make the sentences more interesting?

3. Below are some simple sentences, extend the sentences by adding a clause to the beginning of each one.

- The police and rescue team came racing.
- The scientists had a fright.
- The aliens rushed to get their pant supply.
- The aliens sent the meteor back into space.
- The aliens used pants to help save the universe.

★ Can you replace the verbs in the sentences with your own verbs and add adverbs to make them more interesting?

★ Here are some pictures. Choose a picture and write your own extended sentences to describe what is happening in the picture.

